2. On or about June 16, 2017, Jeffrey Yohai made the following statements to law enforcement agents [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] in substance and in part:

- [REDACTED]
- When asked if Manafort and Calk entered into a “quid pro quo” relationship, Yohai said “yes”. [REDACTED] Yohai opined that Manafort’s loan was not a return favor by Calk as Manafort’s loan terms were not very favorable and his loan was overcollateralized. Yohai was not aware of any promises made by Calk to Manafort in exchange for the cabinet position. [REDACTED] Manafort wanted Calk as a friend for “speculative favors” in the future. Yohai did not know if Manafort ever actually asked Calk for any favors. [REDACTED]
